

Posted Sept. 5, 2017

Wisconsin Public Radio

announces an opening for an early career journalist in its News Department.

2nd Century News Reporting Fellowship

Location: Milwaukee

Wisconsin Public Radio is accepting applications for our news reporting fellowship based in Milwaukee, designed to prepare journalists of color, and those from other groups underrepresented in the media industry, for successful news careers. The fellow will be responsible for start-to-finish preparation of assigned news segments/newscasts. Concentrated coaching and feedback on writing, editing, voicing and other aspects of radio news reporting are important elements of this fellowship. This is a 12-month FT paid internship.

Requires: Bachelor's degree or equivalent combination of education and experience, Previous broadcast news internship or professional experience, Demonstrated ability to generate news story ideas, experience producing or re-purposing news material for the web.

Details: <https://www.wpr.org/2nd-century-news-fellow>

Apply by 5 p.m. Sept. 29, 2017 for this fellowship that will begin in January 2018.